2003 BILL

1 AN ACT to create 560.03 (24) of the statutes; relating to: creating an economic
2 development program website ~~and requiring a study by the Legislative Audit~~
3 ~~Bureau.~~

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires the Department of Commerce to create a website that allows access to information concerning every economic development program available in this state. In addition, the department must develop a website template which chambers of commerce in this state may customize to meet the needs of the areas that they serve and which is directly linked to a statewide data base. ~~The bill also requires the Legislative Audit Bureau to conduct a study of all economic development programs available in this state. The study must include an analysis of economic development needs as derived from official data and a list of deficient, outmoded, or redundant programs.~~

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

4 SECTION 1. 560.03 (24) of the statutes is created to read:

BILL

560.03 (24) Make information about all economic development programs in this state available on a website that is accessible through the Internet by any member of the public. The information shall cover any economic development program established under state or federal law or municipal ordinances and shall be organized in a manner that enhances the accessibility of the information. The department shall develop a website template for use by chambers of commerce in this state, which a chamber of commerce may customize to meet the needs of the area served by the chamber of commerce and which is directly linked to a statewide data base.

SECTION 2. ~~Nonstatutory provisions.~~

(1) ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT STUDY. The legislative audit bureau, in consultation with the joint legislative council staff, shall conduct a study of all economic development programs available in this state under state and federal law and municipal ordinances. The study shall include an analysis of economic development needs as derived from official data and a list of deficient, outmoded, or redundant programs. No later than September 1, 2004, the legislative audit bureau shall submit the results of the study to the chief clerk of each house of the legislature for distribution to the legislature under section 13.172 (2) of the statutes.

Joe,

Below are some more details for additions to the website proposal. Hopefully this will help, please let me know if more details are needed:

- The result of a search must give programs and contacts that fit the scope of a business -> needs to ask the right questions to find the right programs, such as: business industry, stage of the business (start-up, early stage, mature, etc.), number of employees, and anything else that may be needed to determine the best fit for programs. Note: this wouldn't be completely defined until a programmer gets involved and determines the correct characteristics to ask for.
- Could have two different search methods, one similar to what Commerce currently has which leads to a very broad listing of programs available, the other more detailed and used to find exact program matches.
- The template created for local entities would offer the same search method as above, but include customizable sections for links to local government and programs as well as a local heading/banner. The thought is to give local entities a website that shows and promotes local programs, but that also ties into the statewide database with information on all ED programs, which is held by Commerce.

In reading the proposal over, I think that it just needs some more thoughts on the overall vision, including what is in the LRB analysis, to include the thoughts of providing better matches for queries on ED programs, providing a template that would be used state-wide by local entities so their constituents can search for available programs from their local website, and the ability for Commerce to track ED trends.

Again, feel free to call to discuss. We're wanting to introduce these two shortly and I need to get them out for co-sponsorship memos.

Best,

Joe
